Price List of QUALITY PEONIES

Peonies may be planted in spring or fall and should be planted three or four feet apart in a good, well drained soil, in sun or partial shade, and away from roots of trees and shrubs. Plant with the eyes not more than two inches beneath the surface, and in a hole large enough to accomodate the roots without crowding. Dirt in the bottom of the hole should be firmed so that the roots will not settle. Mix a handful of bone meal with the dirt around each root. This is usually beneficial to the plant, but not necessary. Use water in planting if the soil is very dry. Make a six inch mound of earth over newly planted roots and remove the same in early spring.
